MR. STEVENS' RECONSTRUCTION BILL.

A large number of private bills were passed, after which the House proceeded to the consideration of Mr. Stevens' Reconstruction Bill.

Mr. ROSS, of Illinois, made a speech, stating his objections to it as unconstitutional, as adverse to the principles enunciated by the Republican party during the war, and as being unwise and inexpedient. If Congress could depose the President and paralyze the Supreme Court, Constitutional Government would be destroyed in this country. He thought he saw among the Republican leaders types of the Robespierres, the Dantons, and the Marats of the French Revolution. He appealed to Congress to let well enough alone, and rather bear the ills we have than fly to others that we know not of. As to the proposed impeachment of the President, he thought he ought to be impeached for leaving so many disunionists in office.

Mr. STEVENS gave notice that he wanted to take the floor on Monday, and seek to put the bill on its passage. If Mr. Ashley would withdraw his substitute and Mr. Bingham would withdraw his motion to refer the bill to the Committee on Reconstruction, he would ask to have it considered under the five minutes, rule as in Committee of the Whole.

Mr. ASHLEY withdrew his substitute, and announced his intention to vote against the reference of the bill.

In the course of Mr. ASHLEY'S remarks, he alluded to men holding seats on the Democratic side, who had co-operated with the rebels.

Mr. WINFIELD took exception to his remark, and denounced it as utterly untrue, and a base and unfounded slander.

Mr. HUNTER, of New York, added: "And so far as I am concerned, it is a base lie."

Mr. HILL called Mr. Hunter to order, and the SPEAKER ruled that the words were out of order.

Mr. RANDALL, of Pennsylvania, "But nevertheless true."

Mr. HILL moved a vote of censure against Mr. Hunter. Carried by 84 against 34.

The SPEAKER briefly administered censure to Mr. Hunter who stated he used the language in a moment of irritation at a false charge. He intended no disrespect to the House.

Mr. ASHLEY made an explanation of his remarks, which he intended to apply to those here or elsewhere who, during or since the war, were in secret alliance with the opposition; who had voted against supplies for the war; discouraged enlistments, encouraged desertion, and organized a conspiracy to overthrow the Government; and he intended it to apply to no other persons.

This ended the proceedings.

The House adjourned.

Section two fixes the price of rations for two years at fifty cents per ration for all officers below Brigadier-General serving with troops, and for educational professors at West Point.

Section three continues to all officers of the regular army who have served as volunteers, the same rank by brevet as the highest commission they held in the volunteer service, and provides that the relative rank of all officers of the same grade and date of commission, shall be determined by their previous commissions, whether regular or volunteer, and places all officers on the same footing as to rank, pay, promotions, and in all other particulars, in their respective grades.

THE POLICY OF SECRETARY M'CULLOCH.

While it is understood Secretary McCulloch is desirous of relieving the money market from the pressure brought on by the contraction of four millions of greenbacks per month, it is not correct, so far as can be ascertained, that he will stop the withdrawal immediately. The country will probably have the development of the Secretary's policy on this important subject in a few days.

REPORT ON INDIAN AFFAIRS.

Senator Doolittle yesterday made a report from the Joint Committee of the two Houses, appointed in 1865, to personally look into the Indian Affairs, and to inquire into the treatment of Indians by the civil and military authorities.

Their report is accompanied by an appendix, containing a great amount of information from distinguished military officers and from civilians, and the testimony of many witnesses.

The field of the investigation is given from the West to the shores of the Pacific and was examined in divisions by sub-commissioners. The Committee especially recommended the passage of the Senate Bill now pending in the House for the creation of Boards of Inspections for the constant and thorough supervision of Indian affairs; and all new States and Territories.

They urge that such investigation is best of all modes suggested to secure fidelity and efficiency in the Indian service, and to prevent wars, which, after all, are the source of the greatest expenditures and abuses connected with the Indian Affairs.

One of the Board is to be detailed from the regular army by the Secretary of War; one member to be appointed from among such persons as may be named by the great religious bodies in convention, and the chief of the Board is to be an Assistant Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

The Boards of Inspection are clothed with power to visit all Indian tribes in their respective districts, annually, to see that the treaty stipulations, on the part of the United States, are faithfully kept; to hear the complaints of Indians; to preserve amity, with power to suspend, or cause any officer of the General Government to be suspended, and to examine his books and accounts, and to inquire generally into their treatment by civil officers and military authorities.

The argument of the Commission is, that the Board so constructed can supervise all our Indian affairs in a three-fold character—civil, military and educational—and that the abuses in our Indian system do not grow so much out of the system which Congress has adopted as from want of efficiency in the administration of the system, in sparsely inhabited and far-distant Territories, and that such Board of Inspection are the best, if not the only, means of securing greater efficiency and fidelity in the premises.

THE ELECTION IN GEORGETOWN.

The large number of negroes registered in Georgetown renders it probable that the Radical candidate for Mayor, Charles D. Welch, will be elected. At a meeting of freedmen held on Friday night, the following interrogatories were read, which the colored people of Georgetown intend to propound to the candidates for the mayoralty:

First—Have you been in favor of enfranchising colored men in this district since slavery was abolished?

Second—Are you in favor of giving the same civil and political rights to the people of color that are enjoyed by the whites?

Third—Are you in favor of the education of colored children, and will you, in case you are elected Mayor, use your power and influence to give them the same advantages in regard to schools as are given to white children?

Fourth—Will you, if elected, so execute the laws and ordinances of the city as to admit of no distinction on account of color as required by the act of Congress, known as the Civil Rights bill?

Fifth—Will you, when laborers and mechanics are employed by the Corporation, so distribute the labor as to give employment to whites and blacks alike.

THE TAX ON ALCOHOL.

In the Senate yesterday, Mr. Fessenden's joint resolution to amend existing laws was passed, and having already passed the House, goes to the President:

PAID ON ACCOUNT OF INDIANS.

The statement of disbursements on account of Indians for the fiscal year of 1866, was sent to the Senate yesterday by the Second Auditor. Of the 160 items, 68 items are for expenses in fulfilling treaties with as many tribes, a few of which are as follows: Chippewas of Mississippi, $106,645; Creeks, $117,330; Blackfeet, $71,366; Pottowatomies, $33,405. The construction of wagon roads in Idaho, Montana and Nebraska cost $6,827, the pay of Superintendents, $122,200; of Interpreters, $63,708. Besides this, $196,696 was required for provisions and clothing for the destitute Indians of the Southern Superintendency.

THE WHISKEY TAX.

The Ways and Means Committee yesterday appointed Messrs. Hooper, Wilson and Hogan a sub-committee to consider the subject of the whiskey tax, with instructions to report early next week.

APPOINTMENTS.

[Special Dispatches to New York Papers.]

It has been stated on good authority that in approving of the bill authorizing the assembling of the Fortieth Congress on the fourth of March next, the President has contributed to his own impeachment, and the Committee on the Judiciary are very industriously engaged in the collection of evidence, but will not report until the close of the session, and then the report will be in favor of impeachment. The task of offering the articles of impeachment will devolve upon the next Congress.

The President's veto of the Nebraska bill will be sent to the Senate Monday.

A letter received in Washington from a broker in New York, whose name and address can be furnished, and who is vouched for as reliable, charges that the sum of $50,000 was subscribed in that city to induce the offering of impeachment resolutions in the House. The letter refers to one broker who admits having subscribed $5,000. It does not appear that the money was ever paid. This may possibly explain the premature announcement of the impeachment resolutions.

Assistant Secretary of State, Frederick Seward, is on a visit to Hayti, to purchase a harbor for our Government in the West Indies.

Mr. Boyer, Democratic member of the New Orleans Riot Committee, has summoned a large number of witnesses, and it is probable that the report will not be ready before the end of the session.

So large a number of freedmen are being registered in Georgetown, D. C., under the Suffrage Act, that it is not improbable the Radicals will carry the election. A larger number of whites were registered than ever before voted.

The Judiciary Committee will report a bill to give Government patronage only to loyal newspapers in the South.

The President has thus far sent to the Senate over four hundred civil nominations.

The numerous frauds perpetrated on the Pension Bureau are receiving thorough investigation. Indictments have been found against a number of parties in New York.

Reports that the Judiciary Committee are taking impeachment testimony, are without foundation. They are waiting the movements of Ashley, who is engaged in arranging data upon which they will proceed.

The Horse Railroad men have been before the Ways and Means Committee to get an extension of the provision of the Internal Revenue Law which expires next April, allowing them to impose the additional tax upon passengers.

The Gold Bill still meets with opposition in the Senate Finance Committee.

The Ways and Means Committee have determined, owing to the lateness of the session, not to report any bill reorganizing the Executive Department.

Governor Cummings, of Colorado, is now in Washington. He opposes the admission of the Territory as a State at present.

A Committee of cotton manufacturers, consisting of Messrs. Wm. Devine, Richard Garsed, A. Campbell, D. Kelley, A. Cattle and James Riddle, were introduced, by Judge Kelley, to the Ways and Means Committee, on Saturday, before whom they made an argument in favor of the repeal of the five per cent. tax on manufactured cotton goods. They subsequently paid a visit to Thaddeus Stevens, who promised to do all he could to promote their interest.

The Foreign Relations Committee, of each House, had a meeting Saturday morning, to consider the propriety of reporting upon the bill referred to them last session, guaranteeing the fifty million Mexican loan. A number of New York merchants are here to anticipate the discussion of the Committees, and if favorable to the endorsement of the Liberal finances to make a speedy investment in the bonds of the Mexican Republic.

FROM THE PACIFIC COAST.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27.—Senor Goderi, Mexican Consul here, received by the Continental, from Mazatlan, this evening, a letter from President Juarez, dated Duraungo, January 12th, advising him of the capture of Gonzales, Ortega and General Pantoni by Governor Ansa Gaurist, of Zacatecas. Juarez would leave for Zacatecas on January 14th, remain there two or three days, and then leave for San Luis Potosi or Guanajuato. Juarez expects to be in the City of Mexico in March.

James N. Nye, United States Senator from Nevada, arrived in this city last night en route for Washington.

Messrs. Buel, Lockhard and Brooks have been appointed Commissioners to the World's Fair at Paris, for Nevada.

A bill to provide for carrying on the financial transactions of the State on a coin basis, was introduced in the Nevada Legislature yesterday.

FROM ST. LOUIS.

Drowning of Six Men in Attempting to Cross the Missouri River—Legislative Proceedings—The Warlike Movements of the Indians.

ST. LOUIS, January 26.—The mail agent of the North Missouri Railroad, reports that six men, passengers on the northward bound train, were drowned while attempting to cross the Missouri river, over the ice at St. Charles, on Friday morning. The ice was too heavy for the ferry boat to run, but these men being anxious to pursue their journey, undertook to make a passage in a small boat, which was crushed by the ice like an egg shell, and all were lost. Their names are unknown.

The Indian delegation from Kansas arrived here to-day, and will leave for Washington by the Terre Haute train to-morrow.

ST. LOUIS, January 27.—The lower House of the Missouri Legislature has a proposition before it to abolish the office of Public Printer and establishing a Board of Public Printing, consisting of the Secretary of the State, Auditor and Treasurer, who shall award the printing to the lowest bidder.

The House has passed a resolution to appoint a committee to inquire into the exorbitant rates of freight and fare on railroads of this State, and report by bill for the government of such matters.

The Republican's St. Joseph special says: Advices from the Plains and mountains report the great body of the Indians moving southward. Old Indian fighters say this means war; that the Indians have a knowledge of the troops which are being sent out, and so they are moving southward to open the war in that less protected region, but when the troops are sent after them, they will give them the slip, dash north again and spread murder and devastation upon the region thus uncovered.

NEW ORLEANS, January 27.—The following correspondence is published:

DISPATCH TO GENERAL SHERIDAN.

GALVESTON, TEXAS, January 24, 1867.—Maj. Gen. P. H. Sheridan, Commanding the Department of the Gulf at New Orleans:—The citizens of Galveston wish to give a civil escort, from the steamer to the cars, to the remains of General Johnston. General Griffin, commanding, has issued a prohibitory order. Will you give authority to the citizens here to give civil escort to his remains?

GEN. SHERIDAN'S REPLY.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 24, 1867.—Mr. Charles A. Leonard, Mayor of Galveston, Texas—Dear Sir:—I respectfully decline to grant your request. I have too much regard for the memory of the brave men who died to preserve our government, to authorize Confederate demonstrations over the remains of any one who attempted to destroy it.

Railroad Collision.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 27.—The Chicago and Cincinnati passenger train bound south, collided with a wood train near Stockwell, Indiana, on Saturday night. River Telegrams.

By Merchants' National Telegraph Company.

OIL CITY, Jan. 27.—Weather cold and cloudy. Wind blowing hard all day. River and creek both closed.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

The Weather.

Just now, people are very generally speculating on the probabilities and effects of a general and speedy thaw. Mr. Albree, in his weather communication to the Chronicle, states that on December 1, 1845, there was sleighing in Pittsburgh, and it continued more or less till March 11th, 1846. There were no floods; the highest the river rose was on March 15th, twenty-five feet. The next cold snow winter was in 1855-56, when there were no January or February thaws, and the ice went off imperceptibly, doing no damage. This year snow covered the ground about December 15th, and by continual storms these layers have been packed down, until it has become hard, and every additional snow increases it. As to the probabilities of a freshet, consequent on a rapid thaw, Mr. Albree says: "The wind is likely to remain in the east, northeast and the west, over night, until the sun in his northern transit begins to mellow the atmosphere from the 1st to the 10th of February, and gradually melt the snow by south wind and sunshine, taking off the loose upper surface of the snow, each time leaving the surface more icy. On such days, if the icicles are forming on the eaves of houses, you may be sure it will freeze hard at night."

United States District Court.

Before Hon. WILSON M'CANDLESS.

The case of Joseph Weaver, indicted for passing a counterfeit twenty dollar note on the Fourth National Bank of Philadelphia, with intent to defraud J. Hager, tavern keeper, was resumed on Saturday. For the defense a brother of the accused testified that about the time of the alleged passing he gave his brother two twenty dollar bills of national currency. The accused resides in Washington county, and is part owner of a farm there. A number of witnesses were called, who testified to his good character for honesty. The case went to the jury about noon, and the Court adjourned until four o'clock, it being expected by that time a verdict would be agreed upon. At four o'clock the Court re-assembled, and the jury coming in stated that they had not agreed, and that it was not likely they would. They were then discharged, and the accused remanded for trial before another jury. We understood eleven voted for an acquittal, the remaining one persisting for conviction.

The Courts.

The Common Pleas, Quarter Sessions, and District Courts were in session on Saturday, and transacted business of a miscellaneous nature.

Judgments on the verdicts in the cases of George E. Shaw, convicted of assault and battery, and H. G. Gebhart, convicted of larceny as bailee, were deferred until Saturday next.

The argument list in the Quarter Sessions will be taken up to-day. The number of cases is small.

On application of John Coyle, Esq., Judge Sterrett granted a writ of habeas corpus in the case of John Dunlap, committed by Alderman Donaldson for desertion. The writ was made returnable to-day.

The bond of Captain W. B. Coulter, appointed Flour Inspector, was presented by James Veech, Esq., and approved. The amount of the bond is $2,000.

A petition was presented praying for the vacation of a part of an alley twelve feet wide, in the village of East Liberty, laid out many years ago by Alexander Thompson. The Court ordered the publication of the application.

Death in the County Jail—Coroner's Inquest.—Coroner Clawson yesterday held an inquest in the county jail, on the body of Nicholas Schrimpf, who died at an early hour in the morning, in the prison. Schrimpf was a well-known vagrant, and was committed by Mayor McCarthy on the 11th of January, on a charge of vagrancy, for thirty days. His death was clearly the result of general debility produced by a dissipated and licentious life,—a combination of whiskey and syphilitic disorders. The jury so found in their verdict.

Mrs. Cunningham Burdell in Pittsburgh—A Borrowed Baby

When Mrs. Cunningham, in New York, had assumed the name of the murdered Doctor Burdell, and the strange and nearly effective means which she had adopted to secure to herself the property left by him had become known, the country rang with the apocryphal story and many were they who declared the whole tale a fabrication. People in this vicinity have less reason to be skeptical concerning such a ruse now than they had in those days, as a notorious and pretty well authenticated case of similar character set this community agog after Mrs. Cunningham's day. Another trick of the same nature, though less perfectly performed, and played for a smaller stake than that of the New York Cyprian, has recently come to our knowledge here.

The parties are a gentleman occupying a tolerably prominent position as a business man, and a vile woman, whose status may be judged from the fact that she boarded and lodged in a negro crib in the Seventh ward. The man mentioned is married and has a family, while he moves in a circle of society whose members are supposed, at least, to have self-respect sufficient to keep them from such very evil communications as this man seemed to have come in contact with. He became intimate with the woman we have mentioned—too intimate as the denouement will prove. The intimacy continued for a long time, but at last grew irksome to the Delilah's victim, and he grew remiss in his attentions, which had previously been so devoted. Fewer and fewer grew his visits, until at last they ceased entirely. This could have been endured, but the money stopped with the visits, and this could not be endured. The woman waited a time, and when she found that he still did not come, she cast about for some means, either to bring more money to her purse or to revenge herself for the cessation of supplies. To effect this she went to the office of a magistrate and made information against her deserter on some charge just to show her disposition. The accused did not appear much frightened and offered no "black mail." Five or six other informations followed in rapid succession but with similar results. A change of tactics became necessary, and after after an interval she made a final information for fornication and bastardy. This had its effect and the persecuted man visited her again, at her "apartment" in the aforesaid locality. There she told him her story—how her child, and his, had been born and had to be supported. To prove her words true she turned down the coverlet of the bed and showed a young babe, hale and healthy. That was enough, and the victim went away promising to speedily send the needful "material aid." Before any money had been sent, however, the odor of rodents became apparent to the badly sold man. He ascertained, beyond a doubt that the baby whose support he had undertaken was one which had been borrowed from a convenient neighbor. The proof of the facts he laid before the magistrate and the suit was summarily dismissed. Thus the matter rests at present. Where the baby went we know not.

Attempted Burglary—The "Dispatch" Building Almost Robbed

The burglars are unceasing in their attentions. Here, there, and everywhere their exploits or attempted exploits are perpetually turning up. And their impudence passeth all understanding. Recently—so we are told—they broke through and stole from the house of His Honor, the Mayor. Not long since the office of the Chief of Police was surreptitiously entered and robbed of an overcoat belonging to a member of the police force. The GAZETTE office was robbed, though not exactly burglarized, to a very considerable extent, not long ago, and still more recently the Chronicle building was victimized in no small degree, these latter instances showing that the vagabonds are not shy even of the newspapers, who are always relentlessly pursuing them. One of the latest burglarious enterprises was an attempt made on Saturday night to enter the Dispatch building. The lower portion of this building, as is known, is occupied jointly as a telegraph office and the salesroom of Mr. Wm. N. Ogden, of the Pittsburgh Cutlery Company. Mr. Ogden has a remarkably fine stock of cutlery, skates, &c., and it was probably a desire for some of this stock that induced the attempted burglary. A hall runs the entire length of the lower side of the building, and near the rear a door opens from this hall into the telegraph office. The door is kept locked and is never opened, Mr Ogden's desk being set against it. The operators were apparently unaware of this fact, as it was through this door that they attempted to make their entrance. The door was fastened on the inside by a bolt placed over the lock. This bolt seems to have been drawn back by means of a wire introduced through the key hole. The door had then been partially pried open, the position of the desk showing that it had been opened about a foot. Either it was found impossible to push the desk further, or the operators were disturbed and decamped in haste without waiting to finish their job. At all events the door was left in this position and a smooth hickory stick resembling a watchman's mace, which had probably been used in prying open the door, was left on the scene of operations. No entrance was effected, and consequently no damage was done beyond disturbing the door. No suspicion is entertained as to the identity of the guilty parties.

A Conflagration On Runners.

We have heard of a skating park taking fire and have heard of snow being so nearly burned up that a brown crust was baked over the surface of it; but we never heard, until yesterday, of a sleighing party being burned out. Yesterday afternoon a sleighing party from the country, riding comfortably in an old fashioned rustic sleigh, such as we see every day on the streets, was passing happily along Ross street, drawn by staid country horses strung with sober sounding bells. Suddenly a column of flame shot up, from the centre of the sleigh, startling all the lookers on, and causing the occupants of the sleigh to alight in such haste and in such unseemly attitudes as ne'er were seen before. The horses shared the general consternation and stopped, paralyzed apparently by the strange load which occupied their vehicle. The neighbors rushed hither and thither and as soon as ideas and buckets could be collected, rapid and repeated applications of water were made to the burning sleigh, and the flames were finally extinguished in time to save the sleigh from destruction, though when the party rode away their sleigh was considerably the worse for wear. Hot bricks and straw placed comfortably in the bottom of the sleigh accounted for the strange conflagration.

Dry Goods at Eastern Prices—The Place for Bargains.

Elsewhere is made the announcement that the old and popular dry goods firm of J. M. Burchfield & Co., No. 87 Market street, will open one of the finest stocks of goods ever brought to this city, which has just been purchased in the Eastern markets for CASH. Wishing to give all who may favor them with their patronage, an opportunity for obtaining great bargains, the entire stock is being marked down at prices little above cost. The goods comprise every description of wearing materials, table linens, sheetings, shirtings, muslins, Irish linens, &c., &c., all of the very best manufactures. The prices are to be even less than the ruling rates now held in the depressed markets of the East, and few shoppers who study economy will fail paying 87 Market street a visit. A large force of polite and accommodating clerks will be found in attendance, and we urge upon our readers a visit to the establishment, an examination of the goods, and an enquiry into the prices.

Narrow Escape.

The alarm of fire which sounded from box No. 64, corner of Penn and Morton streets, at about ten o'clock on Saturday morning, was occasioned by a slight fire which occurred in the second story of a dwelling occupied by Mr. Taylor, No. 11, Winter's Court, in the Ninth ward. A little boy of Mr. Taylor's was playing by himself in the room and, getting near the fire, managed to set fire to some clothing which lay on the floor. Fortunately the fire was discovered almost immediately extinguished with buckets. Had it continued much longer, not only the little fellow himself would have been burned to death, but his mother and her infant child, who lay in the room above. There was no way of getting down from the room occupied by Mrs. Taylor except a pair of narrow stairs leading into the room where the fire was.

The Poor Remembered.

Yesterday a collection was taken up in St. Paul's Cathedral, for the suffering poor of the city, which resulted in the handsome realization of over one thousand dollars, together with one hundred loaves of bread and two hundred and forty bushels of coal. This will be distributed judiciously among the poor of the city without distinction of creed or color, by that very excellent and praiseworthy benevolent association, the Society of St. Vincent de Paul. This association has expended a great sum of money this winter in relieving the wants of suffering humanity, and the present collection will enable the members to prosecute their labor of charity under more favorable auspices.

The Letter List.—The Assistant Postmaster General has confirmed the award of Postmaster Hampton that the Sunday Leader, having "the largest circulation within the bounds of the Postoffice delivery," is entitled to the publication of the letter list.

Death of the Hon. David Ritchie—Meeting of the Bar—Resolutions of Respect.

On Saturday morning, pursuant to the call published the previous day, a meeting of the members of the Pittsburgh Bar was held in the Court House, for the purpose of passing resolutions of condolence concerning the decease of the Hon. David Ritchie, which occurred on Thursday morning, the 24th inst., at 9 o'clock. There was a large number of the profession present, and expressions of the utmost regret and sorrow for the untimely departure of their deceased brother were heard on all sides. The meeting was called to order by the election of Hon. James I. Kuhn to the chair, after which the following officers were appointed: Secretaries—John W. Riddell, Esq., Major A. M. Brown. Committee on Resolutions—M. Swartzwelder, Esq., Hon. J. H. Hampton, J. M. Kennedy, Esq. The Committee on Resolutions then withdrew, and shortly reported the following preamble and resolutions, which were with one accord adopted:

WHEREAS, We, the members of the Pittsburgh Bar, having assembled to express our sincere sorrow at the death of our brother, the Hon. David Ritchie, and to pay a becoming tribute to his memory, therefore be it

Resolved, That in his death we have lost one whose great natural abilities united with the discipline of a thorough education, justly entitled him to the prominent position which he has so long occupied in our profession.

Resolved, That his faithfulness as a legislator, his acknowledged ability as a jurist, his profound learning and practical knowledge as a lawyer, and his ripeness as a scholar, made his life peculiarly useful, and will cause his loss to be most deeply felt.

Resolved, That while we have learned of his death with unfeigned regret, we take a mournful pleasure in bearing testimony to his eminent legal qualifications, his distinguished scientific and literary attainments, keen sagacity, strong common-sense, ardent love of justice, and stern integrity.

Resolved, That these proceedings be presented to the several courts, with a request that they enter the same on their minutes, and that the officers of this meeting be a committee to transmit a copy of the foregoing resolution to his relatives, and that we attend his funeral to-day, at two o'clock, in a body.

Pending and subsequent to the adoption of the resolutions, able addresses were made by Marshall Swartzwelder, Esq., B. F. Lucas, Esq., Hon. James Veech, Hon. Robert McKnight, and Hon. Jas. P. Sterrett, in which the many great and noble qualities of the deceased were commemorated in eloquent terms. The meeting then, on motion, adjourned.

Coasting Accident.

We have repeatedly called attention to the danger attending the practice of "sliding down hill," or the pavements, which is so largely followed by the boys and fine young men of both cities. It is scarcely to be expected that boys would pay much heed to the obvious perils of this sport, but one would expect young men to realize and avoid them. On Saturday afternoon youth named William Cranson, residing on Liberty street, in the Fourth Ward, Allegheny, while coasting down Tomato street, near the Third Ward school house, came violently in contact with a tree box and was thrown off, breaking his right leg below the knee. He was taken up and removed to his home, where medical attendance was summoned and his injuries properly attended to. There are a great many boys on this side of the river who have attained pretty fair proportions, and who persist in in sliding down hill in the most reckless and irresponsible fashion. We sincerely hope they'll not break their legs, but when the alternative narrows down to their own legs or those of foot passengers, we can look on the first named danger with tolerable complacency.

The Small Pox in the Tombs.

On Friday afternoon Caroline Black, a well-known prostitute of Allegheny City, made application to Mayor Morrison for permission to stay in the lock-up over night, as she did not feel well and had no place to go. Permission was given and she took possession of a cell. On Saturday morning permission was given for her to remain during the day. She staid during Saturday and Saturday night and yesterday morning she was found to be broken out thickly with a severe type of the small pox. Medical aid was summoned, but up to yesterday afternoon no physician had attended her, and of course no permit had been given for her transfer to a hospital. Belle Kelly, who has attained a notoriety even greater and more unenviable than Caroline, and who is a "chum" of the latter, was busy in attending her stricken friend yesterday, and was unwearied in obtaining medicines and such delicacies as she could raise. So much for total depravity. Even Belle Kelly is not depraved enough to desert a sick friend.

The Arrest of the Newark Burglar.

We have already announced the arrest, by officers Wilmot and Harris, of John Williamson, charged with a burglary in Newark, N. J. The burglary was committed in June last, when a dry goods house in that city was robbed of $15,000 worth of fancy dry goods. On Wednesday information reached this city to the effect that John Williamson, William Butterly and William Davis were in this city peddling the stolen goods. Information against the parties named was made before Alderman Sutherland, on the corner of Cherry and Diamond alleys, and the warrants placed in the hands of the officers mentioned. Williamson and Davis were ascertained to be at work in the Ninth ward, probably as a blind to their other occupation, while Butler carried on the peddling exclusively. Williamson was arrested, as stated, in the Ninth ward, while at work tin plating. The others are not arrested yet. On Saturday Williamson, in default of $1,000 bail, was committed to jail for a hearing to-day.

Skating Tournament.

To-day the great National Skating Tournament will commence at the Central Park. At this writing, we apprehend there will be no trouble on the score of ice. At three o'clock, all the skaters who intend contesting for the prizes will join in a grand carnival, which will doubtless attract thousands of spectators to the Park. The following named persons have entered the lists: Miss Kate Forsyth, Portland, Maine; C. Curtis, Chicago; S. S. Schofield, New York; J. H. Wilson, Detroit, Michigan; John Engler, Jersey City; John Meagher, Kingston, C. W.; W. H. Bishop, New York; H. A. Hunley, Chicago; Gertie Frothingham, New York. It is proposed that this contest shall be one of the most brilliant that has taken place in the Union. Each of the skaters, entering for the prize, will wear distinguishing colors.

In a Dangerous Fix.

On Saturday night the night police of Allegheny city, found one Jacob Armstrong lying by the Market House, drunk. He was perfectly insensible and nearly froze having laid there dead drunk for some time apparently, at all events he had laid there quite as long as was advisable or safe on such a night as Saturday night, and he was transferred to the lock up. He remained there until yesterday morning, when he paid $2.50 and went away, he was inclined to do any thing else rather than thank the officers who gobbled him, although they manifestly saved his life.

Got Kicked.—It is always the part of wisdom to let a stray mule alone. They're never of any profit to any person except to some one who can pick them up on the sly and sell them as quickly as possible. A boy named Edward White, residing in the Eighth ward, came, on Saturday, to a realizing sense of the folly of meddling with the animals. He came across a stray mule on Pennsylvania avenue, and just for the fun of the thing, caught hold of the animal's tail for the purpose of enjoying a rapid slide over the frozen surface. Recalcitration ensued. In other words, the boy received a severe kick in his forehead, and was obliged to let go. He was taken home and found to be not seriously hurt, but thoroughly disgusted.

Wicked Waste of Whisky.—Conrad Metzger, of Temperanceville, made information before Mayor McCarty on Saturday, against Thomas Donovan, for surety of the peace. He alleged that Thomas threatened to kill him and also to set fire to his house. As a proof of the danger there was of the latter threat being carried into execution, he states that on one occasion recently Donovan had set fire to his chimney by throwing a bottle of whisky in the fire. A warrant was issued and the accused arrested by officer Dressler at about half-past eight o'clock on Saturday evening. He is now locked up awaiting a hearing.

The Reading "Dispatch" pays us the following handsome compliment: The Pittsburgh GAZETTE comes to us greatly enlarged and otherwise improved in appearance. The GAZETTE is one of the oldest papers in the State, its origin dating back to the patriotic days of 1786, being but ten years younger than American Independence. It is one of the best papers in the State, radical to the core on political questions, and its news and local columns of the best order. "May it live a thousand years a terror to each foe."

Partial Hearing.—Thomas Beers, Robert Brewerton and Wm. Thompson, charged on oath of Wm. McPherson with malicious mischief, had a partial hearing before Alderman Morrow on Saturday, and the case was held for further hearing to-day.

The Difference.

The Dispatch of Saturday has an account of a burglary committed a week ago at the house of Mayor McCarthy. Our neighbor will have his little joke and says, at the end of the above mentioned item: "Perhaps the Gazette man has had his mind burdened with this secret since Sunday or Monday." Perhaps. We shall neither deny nor affirm the Dispatch's conjecture. Granting it to be true, however, there is this difference between us and the Dispatch man: While we were bound to keep secret the burglary which occurred a week ago, our cotemporary seems to have been equally bound to secresy concerning the heavy burglary which occurred at the Great Western Gun Works on Friday night.

The Strakosch Opera.—There is a grand musical treat in store for the lovers of the Opera, no less than a visit to our city of the great Strakosch Opera Company, which is announced for Monday evening, February 4th, at the New Opera House. This troupe comprises no less than seventy-five of the leading vocalists of the country, and wherever it has appeared an opera furore has been created. The sale of secured seats will commence at C. C. Mellor & Co.'s music store, No. 81 Wood street, Thursday at 9 A. M.

Fine Sixth Ward Residence for Sale.—The fine two story Brick Double Dwelling, 112 Fulton street, opposite Centre avenue, to be sold to-morrow evening at McIlwaine's Auction Rooms, is one of the most pleasantly situated and comfortable in our city. Size of the lot, fifty feet front by one hundred feet in depth; the improvements conveniently built, and in the most substantial manner. For particulars, see auction advertisement.

Committed.—William Bayne and John Rigby, charged with the larceny of the Gazette files, had a hearing before His Honor, Mayor McCarthy, on Saturday last, which resulted in the withdrawal of the charge of larceny and a new information being made against them of attempted larceny. They were held to answer upon the latter charge in the sum of $300, in default of which they were committed to jail.

National Bank Note Reporter.—We have received the current number of this invaluable counting house companion, published by J. F. Bernard, Esq. We know whereof we speak, when we say that the Reporter is the most reliable, trustworthy and correct journal of the character published in America, and should be found in every bank, counting room and business house of the country.

Fraternal.—William Shirk, a denizen of Spring Garden Run, made information before Mayor Morrison, on Saturday charging his brother, Milton Shirk, with assault and battery, stating that Milton had kicked him in the most vigorous and unbrotherly manner. A warrant was issued and the accused arrested by officer Campbell. The two brothers met on Saturday afternoon and the case was settled to mutual satisfaction.

Death of Mrs. A. W. Loomis.—By a dispatch from St. Paul, Minn., we are informed of the sad fact that Sarah W. Loomis, wife of the Hon. A. W. Loomis, of this city, died on Thursday evening, January 24th, at that place. Her remains will be brought home for interment, due notice being given of the time of the funeral.

Stealing Shoes.—John Huckenstein, proprietor of shoe store on East Lane, Third ward, Allegheny, came before Mayor Morrison on Saturday and made information, charging John Crawford with stealing from his premises a pair of shoes, valued at five dollars. The accused was arrested by the police and held for a hearing to-day.

THE TARIFF.

Considerable progress has been made by Congress in adjusting the details of the pending tariff bill to the wants of the Treasury and the People. The woolgrowers and the manufacturers of woolen goods have been harmonized, to the advantage of each. This is important in itself, and important in its effect upon the agriculture generally. Henceforth the producers of wool and the manufacturers of it will stand together. Nor is this the only good resulting from the conjunction. By means of it a leading department of agriculture becomes pledged to the maintenance of manufacturing as a national policy. Moreover, the continuance and augmentation of wool-growing has a powerful tendency to benefit the grain and cattle growers, by restricting the area and manual and mechanical forces employed therein. When the whole agricultural confraternity shall feel, as they ultimately will, that the protection of Manufacturing Industry is their Protection, there will be no practical difficulty in Congress on questions relating to Tariffs.

Two points remain to be arranged in the bill now under consideration. These relate to coal and scrap-iron; and the proper adjustment of them is of great concernment to several apparently dissimilar and distinct departments of industry.

By the existing law the impost on all kinds of foreign coal is $1.25 per ton. At the last session the House bill fixed the rate at $1.50. The Senate bill of the present session, reduces the levy to 50 cents. The import of English coal, uniformly as ballast, and used here mainly in the production of gas, is of comparatively little consequence. It always rules so high as to exclude it from consumption as an ordinary generator of heat and force. Coal of the British Provinces has, of late, taken altogether a different position, and, unless excluded by higher duties, will drive anthracite out of common use in New England. Mixed with English or American bituminous, it yields gas of an excellent quality. In both these particulars the Maryland and Pennsylvania coal diggers feel the need of Protection.

Besides, a vast railroad interest is involved in the transportation of domestic coal from the mines to and along the seaboard. This interest does not look complacently on the withdrawal of so immense a traffic as that furnished by the coal trade.

It would not be straining to attribute the recent demonstration of Mr. REVERDY JOHNSON, of Maryland, in the Senate, to the importance attached in that State to the views here presented.

Both Houses of Congress are now disposed to fix the duty on foreign coal at $1 50 a ton. The Senate has adopted this rate. The New England men will consent to this, because they understand the need of Protection as a national policy; and see that while cheaper coal would in itself meet their wishes, it cannot be gained without sacrifices in other directions, which they are not prepared to make.

By scrap iron is meant all iron that has been used, whether in the form of horse-nails or railroad bars, or anything between these extremes. The existing law imposes a duty of $8 a ton upon it. The bill as it was reported to the present Congress left this rate undisturbed, but the Senate has reduced it to $3, at the instance of three rail makers, who want to get a supply of material from abroad at less price than pig metal can be produced at home. The Senate reduction would most injuriously, if not fatally affect the value of pig iron. Nor is the cheapening of rails, by this means, of chief consequence to railroad companies, for the use of too large a proportion of scrap in the manufacture of rails, is sure to turn out an inferior article.

Pig iron and coal are nearly all labor. The royalty per ton on ore or coal, in the earth, is an insignificant proportion of the value of iron or coal in market. The difference is the cost of labor expended. It is manifest, therefore, that the proposed reductions would oppress the labor market in these two great departments of industry. The duty on pig iron ought, at least, to be allowed to stand as it is. To this opinion we doubt not the Houses will ultimately arrive. Then, if material reductions shall be afforded in the excise duties, a return to the specie basis would put the coal and iron departments on a fair foundation.

SCHOOL OF DESIGN FOR WOMEN

One great defect in the type of Civilization prevailing in this country is the narrow range to which it restricts the honorable ambition of women. In the general, in what are commonly denominated the better classes of society, matrimony is the only high sphere to which they may aspire. This is not so rigidly true now as it was half a century ago. The gates of literature have since then been measurably unlocked for entrance of females, and some careers have been developed, excellent in themselves and giving promise of better in the future. In retail dry goods store, in the composing rooms of printing establishments, in telegraphic offices, in governmental departments, and in other similar employments, women are obtaining something like an assured position, though the Trades' Unions, so far as they can, inexorably rule them out. This oppression of the laborers who most need aid, by co-operative societies which profess to make the protection of working people a specialty, is highly suggestive.

Unquestionably marriage is the great allotment of Nature for women. "Her desire shall be unto her husband, and he shall rule over her." In that relationship is the highest happiness of earth. Mahometans press this point so strongly as to make it constitute one of the chiefest joys of Paradise. But all women do not marry. As our population increases in density the proportion that remain single is augmented. But marriage, as society is constituted, affords women no protection against reverses of fortune. An Apostle, eighteen hundred years ago, from the out look he had upon the world, came to the conclusion that they who married did well, and they who abstained did better. Many women, during the current century, have found to their bitter cost that they would have been better off in single blessedness than in the bands of wedlock. If courtesy requires us to profess that all women are angels, sober truth compels us to acknowledge that all men are not gods. Besides, the best of men are not proof against adversity, and the wives and orphans of philosophers and saints find the paths of life as rugged and full of thorns as the bereaved partners and children of ordinary mortals. Delicate nurture, in days of prosperity, only aggravates the hardship of bankruptcy or widowhood, or both, when they befall. Dainty fare, apparel of costly stuffs, and a guardianship that forbids even the winds to handle to roughly, are precursors that do not make the needle or the wash-tub any the lighter or more productive when they become essential for obtaining food for a table full of hungry children.

Nor do men escape retribution for enforcing a condition of absolute dependence upon women. Most women do not marry for love, but for settlement in life. Men create this evil, and suffer from it, as it is fitting they should. This is what makes marriage so often the occasion of unrest and disquietude; often of direst torment. Husbands and wives live without that love by which alone marriage is rendered holy. Sad enough for them. But worse even than this; children come unwelcomed, no depth of undying love baptizing them. In after life they discover the great fact that children born of genuine affection are vastly better born than the offspring of indifference or settled hate; and that to be well born is more than half of life's great battle; and that they missed such birth by the malice of Fate, through no fault of their own.

A proper consideration of some or all these facts have led to various schemes for fitting females for honorable and remunerative industry. Foremost among these are "The Schools of Design." Here is a wide field, eminently adapted to their aptitudes and necessities. It will not do for all, but it answers well for many. In it thousands may find employment that shall purify their tastes, develop their intellects, and make them self-supporting in the same absolute sense as men who have adequate knowledge of trades or professions.

An institution of this sort has been established in Pittsburgh, mainly, as we are informed, by the liberality of a few gentlemen. It is now holding its second annual exhibition, at its rooms on Fifth street. We earnestly urge thoughtful citizens to go in and witness what has already been accomplished and then to estimate what increased opportunities will bring about. Men who are not thoughtful may as well stay away. In Christian countries it is fashionable to sneer at oriental civilization in respect to the treatment of women, and to applaud the superiority of that called occidental. But whoever so completely divests himself of the prejudices engendered by education as to look at this problem dispassionately, will see abundant grounds to conclude that the best Christian has more of the Turk in him than his self-esteem will allow him publicly to confess. Our Christian civilization has, indeed, done something for the elevation and ennoblement of woman, but, much remains to be done before females will assume that rank to which Nature's God foreordained them.

THE CONNELLSVILLE RAILROAD.

As we judge, the combination of interests against the bill now before the Legislature to repeal the Act repealing the charter of the Connellsville Railroad Company, is too strong to be overcome. We wish the look was otherwise, but we see no sufficient reasons for concealing our impressions. The railroads of this State, leading to Philadelphia and Baltimore, have certainly powerful influences under their control.

Quite recently important negotiations have been had with the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, to accommodate differences. These negotiations were carried on by gentlemen having interests in common with both corporations. This much was ascertained.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company is willing to secure the building of the Southern Pennsylvania Railroad, and to withdraw opposition to the construction of the Connellsville Railroad through to Cumberland, upon condition that freights from Pittsburgh to Baltimore, by the Connellsville road shall be no more per mile than from Wheeling or Parkersburg.

The President of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company withholds assent from this condition, on the ground that a branch of one hundred miles, like that from Pittsburgh to Cumberland, ought not to control the business of a main trunk, with its connections, eight hundred miles in length.

The condition made by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company is clearly in the interest of Pittsburgh, if there was a probability of completing the Connellsville road under it. If this Baltimore connection was made, rivalry between competing lines would soon reduce freights to the lowest practicable point.

In view of the facts herein disclosed, the early completion of the Connellsville road does not seem probable.

WILL the Pittsburgh GAZETTE be kind enough to state when we copied any of its editorial endorsing General Cameron, adopting it "as hearty enough to pass for original" in our columns?—Harrisburg Telegraph.

Certainly. On the 21st instant you appropriated an editorial from our issue of the 18th.

Nor is this the only instance, during the month, your positive assertion to the contrary notwithstanding, in which you have graced your columns with our hearty commendation of Gen. CAMERON and his excellent Radicalism.

—The GAZETTE has made no charge of corruption against the present Legislature. It has, on several occasions, pointedly rebuked that reproach when made by others. But in discussing a proposition for Constitutional Amendment it did refer, in general terms, to allegations of corruption in General Assemblies for the long period of thirty years. Your application of these distant references remind us of the fellow who held all talk in his presence against stealing to be decidedly personal.

MR. M. S. QUAY has introduced into the House of Representatives at Harrisburg a resolution to call a convention to amend the Constitution of this Commonwealth. His resolution defines the object of the convention to be to strike the word "white" from the clause defining the qualification of voters. This is an important point in itself, but the action of a Constitutional Convention cannot be restricted by a legislative resolution. When once assembled it represents the whole people, and may recommend as many changes as it shall see proper. By all means, gentlemen of the Legislature, call the Convention.

—Dr. G. P. Judd, the well known Sandwich Island missionary, who has been a resident of Honolulu for forty years, has been appointed by the United States Consul to the situation of physician to the American Marine Hospital—a very important office—at that port.

—Major Henry Chotard yet lives in a green and contented old age, at his homestead—Somerset—two miles from Natchez. He was one of General Jackson's aids during the battle of New Orleans.

A PRETTY BUDGET OF GOSSIP.

Scandal About the English Royal Family—Foibles of Queen Victoria—Her Quarrels with the Prince of Wales—Shocking Profligacy of the Prince's Chum.

Apropos of the political squalls in England, of which you have doubtless heard—(by the by, they are getting nearer and nearer to a democratic revolution every day)—I had the signal honor the other day, to make the acquaintance of a "noble Lord," with carrotty whiskers, just from London. From him I got a pretty budget of gossip about the royal folks; and, as the estimation in which the royal family are held may have some influence on coming events, I will give you a few items. It seems, by his account, that the English have only just found out the worth of the late lamented Prince Albert. The exotic Consort of Her Gracious Majesty used to be called "That Dutch interloper," "That fat old good-for-nothing," and other equally contemptuous epithets, during his lifetime. After his death, however, people found out that those wise acts of administration and domestic virtue for which they had all along accredited the Queen, really proceeded from Prince Albert. Since that Prince's death, Victoria has gone down wondrously in popular estimation; and, at this present moment, she is disliked alike by the aristocracy and common folks. She is a vixen, they say, who is always getting into "pets" with her family, and, with the great men who have to consult her; she has got a "divole of timper," and not only quarrels easily, but nourishes her resentment a long while in her capacious bosom; and she has not the least, either of domestic management or capacity for political affairs. You will recollect that I wrote you, last summer, an account of her behavior in lingering at Balmoral after the defeat of the Russell ministry, more than a week. She would'nt answer telegrams from ministers; she turned her back on the special messenger; and some gouty old lord or other was kept trotting backward and forward all the time between London and Scotland, trying to get matters right. My "noble" acquaintance, (who, by the by, is as insignificant, weazen, modest an individual as you ever set eyes on), has just explained to me the mystery of all Her Majesty's delay at that crisis of affairs. It appears that the Princess of Wales had been doing something that the Queen didn't like; so her Majesty proceeded to give her girlish daughter-in-law a sound lecture. This irritated the ire of the Prince of Wales, who was by, and who loves his wife as much as he dislikes his royal mamma; and the result was a very "loud" quarrel between the sovereign and the heir apparent. When the Queen gets into such a state, she becomes obstinate; and, being extremely ill-natured, she only left Balmoral when the loud complaints in the newspapers proved to her how seriously public opinion was offended at her delay. The Queen, it seems, is a Liberal, while the Prince of Wales is a strong Tory; that is usually the case, you know, with these royal people—the heir is the leader of the opposition. So Victoria did her utmost to keep Lord Russell in power—only that noble reformer wouldn't stay; a good thing, perhaps, for the relations between England and America, for Lord Russell is the most impudent of all diplomatists living or dead.

Another matter greatly disturbs the good and loyal subjects of England, and that is the intimacy between the Duke of St. Albans and the Prince of Wales. The Duke of St. Albans is a young man about the age of the Prince, and he has succeeded, in the course of his short but eventful life, in getting up one of the most notorious reputations in Europe. His character is so bad that, with very high rank and great wealth, he is not tolerated in the respectable aristocratic society in London. He began his career by getting into all sorts of scrapes at Oxford, in which city he used to appear with greater regularity in the police court than at the college chapel, and from which University he was finally expelled in disgrace. Since then he has been the hero of innumerable adventures on the Continent, scandalous and otherwise, is well-known in every gambling house and brothel, and police court of Paris, and is as accomplished a villain, for a young man, as you can find in many a day. At Oxford, one day, while he was yet in his teens, three different young women appeared in court against him, with charges of seduction. Since then he has matured in every species of dissipation, and is as well known to the London police as any long-fingered Jack from Billingsgate. And this is the most intimate friend, companion and confidant of the heir to the British throne. They are constantly seen together—often go arm-in-arm together alone o' nights, (and where they go is hardly a mystery). St Albans stays by the week at Marlborough House, and Wales as regularly reciprocates by visiting the Duke at his house—and they are, in every way, "hand and glove." Not only this, the Duke of St. Albans is the intimate of the Princess, as well as the Prince of Wales, and is often seen riding with her alone in the parks. It is, naturally, a matter of uneasiness to the English, that so graceless a reprobate should be so familiar with their future Queen, who is quite too giddy now to suit their staid tastes, and who is vastly imprudent in her association with this noble Duke.

Thus we see the Prince of Wales and his fair wife going in the same path that George the Fourth, of disgraceful memory trod, and we may look forward to a not very promising reign, when another Tory and dissolute King ascends the British throne.

READ THE CERTIFICATE OF REV. R. T. FLUALIN.

TO DR. HOSTETTER—Dear Sir:—This is to certify that I was taken with the dyspepsia a year ago last March, and for a period of eight months was one of the most miserable creatures you ever beheld, not being able either to eat, drink or sleep, and was compelled to walk the floor incessantly. I was nearly deprived of my reason, and hope had entirely left me, all the efforts made for my recovery having proved fruitless.

By the first of November, 1865, I had become so weak and feeble that I could scarcely stand alone, and to all appearance, would soon die. At this time, I saw your advertisement, my wife prevailed upon me to try your Bitters. A tot le was procured, and, strange to say, I soon commenced recovering. I have taken to bottles, and am enjoying as good health now as could be expected for one of my age (a out sixty years). I have no doubt that it was your Bitters alone, under Divine Providence, that effected this wonderful cure.

oc27 JOS. R. HUGHES & BRO.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

MONDAY, JANUARY 28, 1867.

Allegheny County Teachers' Association.

The Annual meeting of this Association was held last Saturday in Neville Hall, Liberty street, Prof. B. Jones in the chair.

Prayer was offered by Rev. W. S. Gray.

Miss Eliza McHendry, of the Second Ward School, Allegheny, read an Essay on Female Influence. It was a well written and practical production and very favorably received by the audience.

Rev. W. B. Watkins delivered a lecture on the Anglo Saxon Element in American Society. This was one of his best efforts and far exceeded both in matter and delivery many of the popular lectures delivered in this city the present winter, by persons from abroad. Mr. Watkins must take rank among our ablest lecturers.

Prof. Dean announced the death of Prof. W. W. Dickson, and paid a fitting and eloquent tribute to his memory and services. Prof. A. Burtt followed and spoke with much force and feeling on the sterling qualities which entered into the character of Prof. Dickson.

Messrs. A. Burtt, L. H. Eaton and J. F. M'Clymonds were appointed a committee to present appropriate resolutions, which were adopted as follows:

WHEREAS, By an afflicting dispensation of Divine Providence, this Association has been called to mourn the death of Prof. W. W. Dickson; therefore,

Resolved, That in the death of Prof. Dickson we feel very sensibly that a great and good man has fallen in the prime of life, and in the meridian of his usefulness.

Resolved, That the loss of such a man, one who possessed all the elements of the highest manhood, and used his great powers for the promotion of our best interests, must, to human view, appear to be a great public calamity.

Resolved, That in his death our Society has lost one of its best members, the great cause of public instruction one of its ablest supporters, the Christian Church one of its brightest ornaments, and truth and justice everywhere, a most earnest and able advocate.

Resolved, That we deeply sympathize with the members of the family which in the death of our lamented associate, has experienced the irreparable loss of a loving and devoted husband, father and friend, and in our prayers, we earnestly commend them to our common Heavenly Father, the God of the widow and fatherless.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be entered upon our minutes, published in the daily papers, and be sent to the bereaved family and the faculty of the High School.

Miss Mary J. Proudfoot and Messrs. A. Burtt and L. H. Eaton were appointed a committee to nominate a list of officers for the ensuing year. They reported as follows, and the report was unanimously adopted:

President—Thos. E. Wakeham.
Vice President—S. Campbell.
Secretary—J. M. Cook.

School Rules.

We publish to-day the communication referred to in our last issue, having since obtained the author's name. We have no suggestions to venture, never having taught a school, but assuredly the self-convicting principle is erroneous and is not calculated to promote the morals of the little scholars. If each discipline is right and all children tell the truth where it is not to their advantage to do so, we have more George Washingtons in our midst than we have hitherto known. But here is "Teacher's" vindication:

MESSRS. EDITORS GAZETTE:—A communication appeared in Wednesday evening's Chronicle, and another, accompanied with some editorial remarks, in to-day's GAZETTE in regard to an obnoxious rule, enforced in many of our schools, viz: requiring pupils to report at the end of each session how many times they have talked during that half-day without permission from the teacher.

The principle involved is, should pupils be required to report, when asked by their teacher, the number of times they have knowingly violated any rule of school. Such a practice is said to be "directly opposite to common sense and morality," and "offering a reward for untruthfulness."

This may be so. If it is, are not you, Messrs. Editors, and your correspondent guilty almost every day of acting "directly opposite to common sense and morality," and, "offering a reward for untruthfulness," when some mischief has been done in your own households, and you ask your little ones if they are guilty? On the same principle, do not our courts of justice offer a premium every day for perjury when they administer an oath? The question of the impropriety of such a school rule may have two sides to it.

Teachers may be supposed to have adopted this rule, not because it was anti-common-sense, anti moral, or anti-truthful, but because, in their judgment, it was the best with which they were acquainted; and they will, doubtless, readily adopt any other that can be shown to be better. We are highly pleased to find ourselves or our occupation, noticed now and then by our patrons and our public journals, notwithstanding it is generally in the way of fault-finding. If both these parties would take a little more interest in our Common schools, they might, perhaps, be more successful.

Now, Messrs. Editors, will not you, or your correspondent, or the contributor to the Chronicle, publish in the GAZETTE, for the benefit of teachers, a few of the many ways by which we may govern our schools well without demoralizing them—ways which you know from experience to be successful in governing school.

A TEACHER.

The Victim Thomas.

Our readers will remember that some days since we gave a paragraph concerning Tomas Elliott, whose wife Emily, had made information, on September 20th, before Alderman Taylor, charging her husband with abandonment, the said abandonment dating from last June. The whereabouts of Thomas were not known until last week, when the announcement of his arrest and commitment on the charge of stealing a watch from Bernard Rooney was made. A commitment was immediately lodged against Thomas by Alderman Taylor, but the unfortunate man was so hedged with different charges that his case did not get around to Alderman Taylor's until Saturday, when he had a partial hearing and was held to bail for a further hearing to-day.

An Accident.

On Friday as Mr. Gross and his wife and sister were passing along Seventh street, about half-past ten o'clock, when near Cherry alley, an immense board pile was blown upon their heads, and all three were severely injured. They were carried into the house of Mr. F. B. Holmes, and every possible assistance rendered them. These board piles reached within six feet of the top of a three story building adjoining, and we are informed that remonstrances have several times been made to the owner against their being allowed to stand, but no attention has been paid to them.

Alleged Larceny.

Saturday afternoon, Annie Johnston, a colored woman, made information before Alderman Johns, charging Christian Schoff with larceny. Annie alleges that Schoff, who was a boarder of hers "skipped" on Thursday night, taking with him a large quantity of her clothing and "cutting" a board bill, some $17 in amount. Schoff was arrested, and when she was brought up to testify against him she had thought better of the matter and offered to mark off the $17 and call the matter square if he would restore the stolen clothing. He promised to do so and was thereupon discharged by the magistrate.

A Wizard Among Wizards.—The great wizard and magician, the Fakir of Vishnu, commences a series of magical entertainments to-night at Masonic Hall. Everybody who reads, has been informed of some of the almost supernatural tricks performed only by the wonderful Fakir, which have won for him the title of Wizard among wizards. He is the best illusionist now traveling, and his performances have been everywhere received with the wildest enthusiasm. He will remain but one week in our midst and all should pay Masonic Hall a visit during his stay. Elegant gifts are to be distributed each evening among the visitors.

Hon. Thomas Williams.—We have read with much satisfaction the very able, learned and logical speech of Hon. Thos. Williams, on removals from office, delivered in the House of Representatives, on the 5th ult. It evinces vast legal knowledge, a statesmanlike grasp of intellect, and a Websterian power of argument. We know of no one who would make an abler, more reliable Senator, two years hence, than the illustrious representative from this district.—Kittanning Free Press.

Charged with Mischief.—On Saturday afternoon Marie McEntyre visited the office of Alderman Lynch, and preferred a charge of malicious mischief against Ellen Machensey. The deponent alleges that the accused maliciously demolished a bedstead belonging to her, valued at thirty-five dollars. The parties are sisters-in-law, and reside in in Hardscrabble. Ellen will probably be arrested to-day on a warrant issued by the Squire.

Little Fire.—At about half past nine o'clock on Saturday morning, an alarm of fire sounded from box No. 4, on the corner of Ferry and Second streets, in the First ward. The alarm was occasioned by a slight fire which had been discovered under the roof of Robert Lea's machine shop, near the chimney. The engines soon reached the spot, and the fire was promptly extinguished before material damage had been done.

Accident.—On Saturday afternoon, as an old lady named Bridget Kelly, was going up Wylie street, to her residence in the Sixth ward, she slipped on the ice at the corner of Chatham street, and falling heavily on the pavement, fractured her right arm between the wrist and elbow. Dr. Donnelly dressed her injuries, and she is now doing very comfortably.

Pittsburgh Capital Down the River.—We learn that several gentlemen of this city, co-operating with parties from New Castle and Parkersburg, West Virginia, have decided to build a large rolling mill at the latter place.

Concert at Mansfield.

The village of Mansfield is a growing place, as well as an ambitious one, inasmuch as it aspires to have concerts of its own.

On Tuesday night last, a vocal and instrumental concert was given in the Presbyterian church of that place, by members of the Presbyterian and Methodist choirs, assisted by Mrs. Sheib, C. C. Mellor, W. D. Smith, W. J. Smith, (the blind Pianist,) and Mr. J. Davis and sisters, from this city. The selection of pieces covered a wide range, embracing Anthems and Choruses in sacred music and some of the best songs and instrumental pieces in secular music, all of which were rendered with good taste, and to the full satisfaction of the large and intelligent audience present.

Where all did so well, it would be invidious to single out any of the performers for special praise. Prof. Mellor presided at the piano, Mr. W. D. Smith, led the anthems and choruses; Mrs. Sheib sang several songs in her usual excellent style; Mr. W. J. Smith played a number of pieces on the piano in a manner that excited general wonderment, he being blind, Miss Hattie Errett, Miss Mamie Brown, Miss S. Morange and Miss Annie Cook also showed their skill at the piano in each rendering a piece of music of their own selection; and songs were sung by Miss Sadie Davis, Miss S. Morange, Miss Juliet Day, Miss Emma Smythe and Miss Annie Cook.

The choir sang four anthems and choruses in excellent style, in the rendering which Mr. W. D. Smith, and Mr. J. Davis and sisters gave their valuable aid.

Altogether it was a very pleasant occasion, and every body went home well satisfied.

Anthracite Coal Trade.

The capitalists of Eastern Pennsylvania are looking for a greatly increased coal production this year. Some of the large companies claim that they will produce twice as much this year as last. The promised figures are as follows:

	1866.	1867.
Lehigh Valley R. R.	1,730,000	2,500,000
Lehigh Canal	1,000,000	1,750,000
Scranton Company	1,400,000	2,000,000
Pennsylvania Coal Co.	500,000	1,000,000
Delaware and Hudson	1,300,000	2,000,000
Other routes	750,000	1,000,000
	6,680,000	10,250,000

Got Out.—The Titusville Herald says: A young grey forest eagle was trapped a few days since, and purchased by the proprietor of the Fulton market. Yesterday morning the "Bird of Freedom" burst the bars of his wooden cage, and after "swinging round the circle" a few times, dove through a pane of glass measuring 24x36, and sailing gallantly aloft "spread the eagle" in his native element, and pointed for the woods of his nativity.

Meadville Improvements.—A summary of the Republican's report of improvements in Meadville for 1866, shows that 182 new houses have been built, 12 have been enlarged, and about 20 repaired. The sum of money invested in these improvements amounts to over $650,000.

Columbus Business.—Business in Columbus, Ohio, has not been so good in 1866 as it was in 1865. In 1865 it was enormous for a place the size of Columbus.

MY POLITICAL PLATFORM.

Kind friends and patrons all, I ask your close attention
I have a stock of Boots on hand, thousands of different sizes,
Which I can well afford to sell at the very lowest prices.
A lot of Boots and Shoes, of French and German leather,
Which none would be afraid to wear, in coldest winter weather.
My Ladies' Boots are of the best, it really is surprising,
That I can sell so very cheap, while prices still are rising.
My stock is of the very best the trade did ever produce,
My Shoes are far the cheapest since the prices I did reduce.
Then seek your own advantage and come to me and buy,
And when my stock is all sold out I'll get a fresh supply.
Since money is so plenty now, and greenbacks in good credit,
Do come and buy some bran new Shoes, you never will regret it.
Cold winter now is at the door, when the old year has ended,
And if your shoes have sprung a leak, do come and get them mended.
Then call at the popular Shoe Palace Emporium, Nos. 24 and 26 Fifth street.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY, Jan. 26, 1867.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as reported by Robinson, McClean & Co., were as follows: Gold, 134@134½; Eighty-one bonds, 107⅝; Five Twenties, old 107; Five Twenties, '65, 105⅝; Five Twenties, new, 104⅝; Seven Thirties, 104⅝; Michigan Southern R. R., 71½; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, —; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, 94⅝; Chicago and North Western R. R., 35¼; do preferred, 62¼; Western Union Telegraph Co., 45; New York Central, 100⅝; Erie, Railroad, 58¼; Hudson, 124; Illinois Central, 112; Toledo, 117; Ohio, 24¼; Cumberland, 35; Quicksilver, 38.

—It is hardly probable that Congress will really perfect any of the currency and financial measures now before it until after the 4th of March, though there are several matters waiting final action which are of vital import. In the meantime Secretary McCulloch will go on with his regular withdrawal and destruction of greenbacks at the rate of $4,000,000 per month, which is not much, but better than nothing. When these greenbacks were first authorized and issued it was with a distinct understanding that they should be convertible into interest bearing bonds at the option of the holder, and that they should be redeemed in coin at the earliest possible day. They were issued as a gigantic forced loan, and were tacitly regarded as promises to pay so soon as the stress of war should have passed away. Now that we have peace, says the New York Tribune, "and are paying off the national debt rather than incurring it, let us resume payment; at all events, let us not multiply falsehoods which have not even the doubtful merit of deceiving. Only let the Treasury resume payment in coin, and then, if there be an equitable mode of replacing our bank note currency by greenbacks, we have not the least objection."

—The failure of banks in the petroleum oil region in 1866 is still fresh in the minds of the people. The Legislature did not, at that time, pay much attention to the matter, but the Auditor General of Pennsylvania appointed a committee to examine into the causes which produced the failure of one of them—the Venango Bank. The report of the minority of this committee has never been published. An effort was made last week to secure its printing, but, for unexplained reasons, the Legislature, after ordering the printing, almost immediately withdrew its consent. A correspondent has sent the following abstract of this document to the Philadelphia Ledger:

"The Venango Bank was chartered under our State law, and deposited $601,000 in Government securities at Harrisburg to redeem its issues. It was afterwards merged into the Venango "National" Bank, and the Directors ordered $500,000 of the securities to be transferred from Harrisburg to Washington as a basis for the new institution. The Hon. C. V. Culver was authorized to make this transfer, and certain parties, signing themselves "agents," "attorneys" and "messengers," actually withdrew $266,000 more of the bonds. The failure took place on March 27, 1866, when the liabilities of the bank were $1,168,901. Its nominal assets were $1,206,045 81, although in reality worth but $346,154. Culver, Penn & Co. owed the bank $501,315 at the time of the failure, and the Reno Oil and Land Company (under the same auspices) owed $49,597. In addition to these amounts, Culver, Penn & Co. acknowledge the sum of $78,000 to be due—which sum the cashier of the bank apparently judged too small to be entered on the books. These books, however, were scarcely models, for they stated that the bank had securities to the value of $235,450 deposited at Harrisburg, while actually but $95,000 had been left there. These same books did not come within half a million of dollars of showing the true indebtedness of the institution when it failed!

"After reaching this point, the minority report on the subject speaks of the directors as men whose "honesty" is unquestioned, and who are recognized by the entire community as prudent, cautious and upright business men. How, then, did they allow the Reno Oil and Land Company to overdraw their account nearly $50,000! This is explained by the minority by saying that they (the directors) "were the victims of misplaced confidence and astounding imposition." The report charges that C. V. Culver was the person who, by appointing his brother-in-law cashier, "kept the directors in ignorance of the condition of the bank." This brother-in-law, it is stated, "purposely evaded the committee." The report concludes by saying that "the operations of C. V. Culver were conducted on a most gigantic scale. His financial operations are without a parallel. He is either guilty of a criminal recklessness or a most stupendous fraud."

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY, January 26, 1867.

The produce markets have been dull and neglected during the past week, and while the transactions in the leading commodities have been very light in the aggregate, and generally speaking, prices have undergone material change, though, the tendency is downward.

GRAIN—Wheat is quiet and unchanged; sale of 3 cars on private terms. Oats dull and drooping; may be quoted at 48 to 49, on track, and 51 to 52, in store. There is little or no inquiry for Corn, and we continue to quote at 68 to 70, on track, and 75 to 80, in store. Sale of 1 car Rye at $1,20. There is some little inquiry for Barley, but we have no sales to record—may be quoted at 90 to 95 for No 1 Spring.

FLOUR—The market is dull, and a little weak, though, as yet, prices are not quotably lower. Well-known brands of Spring Wheat may be quoted at $12,25 @$12,50; Winter Wheat at $13,50 to $14; and fancy Staint Louis brands at $16@17. Rye Flour is selling at $7¾ to 8, and Buckwheat at $3,50 to 3,75 per cwt.

HAY—Is in rather better demand, and the market is a shade firmer. Sale of 2 cars at $22, and 1 car, strictly prime, at $24. Arrivals continue comparatively light.

SEEDS—Flaxseed is in demand, and may be quoted firm at $2,50. Nothing doing in Clover or Timothy Seeds—may be quoted at $3 to $3,25 for the latter, and $8 to $8,50 for the former.

BUTTER—Prime Roll is in steady demand at 32c to 33c. Sale of 9 bbls "mixed," at 28c. Common and inferior very dull—almost unsaleable.

EGGS—Fresh packed scarce and in demand—may be quoted firm at 37@38. Pickled Eggs in good supply and dull.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY, January 26, 1867.

CRUDE—The market for crude has been dull and neglected throughout the past week, and while there has been but comparatively little done, prices have undergone but little change, though if anything, a fraction lower, and the tendency seems to be downward. The only sale reported to-day was 550 bbls "Smith's Ferry," at 7¼, packages returned—quotations may be fairly given at 7¼ to 7½, packages returned and 12¼ to 12½, packages included. There have been a few sales of Venango oil for spring delivery, on private terms—one early in the week at 9, and one later at 8¼, and 8 to 8¼ may be regarded as the ruling quotations for that delivery, though some dealers refuse to sell ahead for less than 9. The eastern and European advices have been unfavorable for the past two or three days, and this, as a matter of course, produces a kind of stagnation and restricts operations.

REFINED—There was but a single operation reported to-day, and it even had not been positively closed at last accounts—one thousand barrels for this month, at 28, delivered in Philadelphia—there may have been some other sales, but the above was all we could hear of. The market continues quiet and dull, though prices are unchanged, and we continue to quote, on the spot, at 22 to 22½, on cars here; and 28 to 28½ delivered in Philadelphia. Those of our refiners who were disposed to sell ahead have already made nearly all the contracts they care about, and consequently, there is but comparatively little oil offering, and our brokers have considerable difficulty in finding sellers at present quotations. For March delivery in Philadelphia, 30½, could doubtless be obtained, and 31, we have no doubt, might be realized for April. Free oil is dull the demand being restricted entirely to supplying the wants of the jobbing trade.

ARRIVALS—The following arrivals of oil were reported to-day—all from Smith's Ferry.

New York Financial Matters.

NEW YORK, January 26.—Affairs in Wall street to-day are calmer. The heavy fall in stocks brought out buyers for investment. Rumors of failures have ceased. Transactions in Stocks for the last six days aggregated 722,000 shares. The market to-day was active and confident, with a general advance at the close. Cincinnati Market.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 26.—Flour held firm, but the demand has been but moderate. Wheat firm; no change; No. 1 winter, $2,80@2,83. Corn firm, though the demand is light, at 55@56c for shelled. Mess pork sold to a limited rate, at $20; but inside the city brands were offered at this rate sparingly, though enough to meet the little demand. RIVER NEWS.

The hopes entertained on Friday of an early resumption of navigation have not been realized, as yesterday was about as cold a day as we had this winter. Considerable snow fell on Saturday, and the wind was very fierce during Saturday night and Sunday.

We see it stated that five-sixths of the little steamer J. L. Graham was sold at Nashville the other day for $3000. The Graham formerly plied between this city and Smith's Ferry.

The following boats were in port at Cincinnati, on Friday last:

Potomac, Mollie Norton, Bostona, Major Anderson, Rebecca, Shamrock, Nightingale, Champion, Clifton, Hunsville, Anglo Saxon, Emerald, Armadillo, Emma No. 3, Robert Burns, Anna, Alice Dean, United States, Mary Erwin, Arabian, Importer, Leonora 2, Minneola, Westmoreland, Starlight, and Petrolia.

Dispatches received from Cairo yesterday announce that the stern-wheel steamer St. Cloud, Captain W. J. Rusk, bound from Evansville for New Orleans, struck a snag at Plumb Point, and was run ashore on the Arkansas side, where she sunk. The dispatch does not give the condition of the wreck. Her cargo was received at Evansville, and principally out of the Wabash river. The St. Cloud was built at Pittsburgh, in November 1859, and owned by Captain W. J. Rusk and A. Byers, of Covington, Kentucky, and recently valued at $22,000, and insured in the following Cincinnati offices for $15,000, viz: Central, $3000; Buckeye, $3000; Commercial, $3000; America, $2000; Boatmen's, $2000, and Magnolia, $2000. Her cargo is insured in Evansville, Cincinnati, and othe other eastern agencies. The favorable change in the weather yesterday caused the underwriters to permit shipments, when all the steamers at the wharf commenced engaging and receiving freight forthwith, a number of which are advertised to leave to-day. Captain Hugh Campbell is renting and refurnishing the St. Charles throughout, for the Louisville and Vicksburg trade. Capt. Campbell is the right man to pace her decks. Capt. H. C. Richmond, of the Argonaut No. 2, passed through the city yesterday, en route from Louisville for Pittsburgh. The Rowena, for Nashville, passed Madison yesterday. The cabin of the old Superior, lying on the bank above the foot of Ludlow, fell in with a tremendous crash yesterday, caused by the heavy weight of snow on the roof. One man engaged in dismantling it was slightly injured. Capts. W. T. Davidson, J. T. West and Captain Blakely were among the delegates appointed by the St Paul Chamber of Commerce, to attend the "River Improvement Convention," to be held at St. Louis on the 12th of February. The mate and pilot of the Emma Floyd arrived in the city yesterday, and report that steamer as having laid up at Wolf Creek.

The Argonaut No. 2, that recently sank at the New Albany shore, below the falls, has at length been abandoned to the underwriters. The freight has all been removed, including her cargo of pig iron, and being valued at only $4,000 as she now lies, which is but 50 per cent, the owners have given her up to the insurance companies.

The Louisville Courier sticks to the prediction that there is a flood impending in the Ohio. It says: "All dwelling along the river at points liable to overflow are warned in time to prepare for a flood. The fall of snow along the water courses is almost unprecedented, and if it goes off with rain, we predict the most disastrous overflow that has ever occurred on the Western Waters. The rise will be sudden and destructive."

John J. Grammer, an old and well known steamboatman, died at his home in Cape Girardeau county, Missouri, on December 12th. He was a pioneer in the business, having been engaged in it as far back as 1830, when the principal inhabitants encountered by boatmen above St. Louis, were the Indians, and when piloting was less of a science and had fewer aids that now.

Says the St. Louis Democrat: A. H. Lee, the strong man who drew Crosby's Opera House, a resident of Prairie du Rocher, is an old steamboatman. About 1856, when the Pocahontas plied as a St. Louis and Missouri River packet, Henry J. Moore was commander, Mr. Lee first clerk, and Wm. H. Scudder second clerk. The latter is at present Secretary of the M. V. Barge Company. Mr. Lee was, we believe, subsequently a clerk in the commission house of David Tatum, St. Louis, and upon that gentleman's decease Lee and Wm. Anderson, brother of the famous banker, succeeded to the business. His acquaintances speak of Mr. Lee as a very worthy gentleman.

Says the Cincinnati Commercial, of Friday: At a meeting of the Cincinnati Charitable Marine Association, held yesterday morning at the rooms of the New Orleans Pilots' Association, the following named steamboat Captains were unanimously elected Directors of the organization, viz: Captains Wm. Gregg, U. B. Piersel, John N. Shunk, J. H. Maratta, John S. Patterson, F. Y. Batchelor, O. P. Shinkle, H. A. Jones and James S. Wise. The towboat Windsor is aground on the shore, just this side of the mouth of Millcreek. Capt. A. Stein, of the steamer P. W. Strader, which left Cairo on Wednesday, telegraphs us from Mound City, Illinois, that he caught four coal barges marked "N. C. C." adrift in the ice, and succeeded in landing them safely at Mound City. The towboat Whale was hard at work yesterday, pulling Captain J. V. Throop's new Evansville and Cairo packet Flying Eagle off the shore above the foot of Broadway. The floating ice had piled under her in huge masses. The Whale released her from her perilous situation handsomely.

Mr. John Q. Rurbridge has arrived at St. Louis. He was a passenger on the Platte Valley when she went down, below Memphis. On his authority the St. Louis Republican says:

How the pilot came to strike a wreck, the position of which is known to almost every one that has been in the pilothouse of a steamboat during the past four years, is a question yet to be answered. It is generally asserted that the wreck lies some distance out of the channel and shows a clear and well defined "break." The night was clear, with a full moon shining, and the disaster can only be charged to the utmost recklessness of the pilot. If so, it is but justice to humanity that he should be made to suffer the extreme penalty of the law. It is heart-rending to contemplate such wholesale loss of human life, and more especially in this instance, when the circumstances are considered.

PURE CALIFORNIA WINES.

GURNER & CO.,

No. 80 Cedar St., New York,

Offer for sale these valuable Wines, which are gaining public favor with astonishing rapidity, and whose unprecedented and unrivalled popularity is not without merit. They have only to be fairly tested to give them the preference over all others. As a purifier of blood they excel all other Wines, and the numerous certificates which have voluntarily been tendered from the most eminent physicians, as well as gentlemen in every position in life, are proof conclusive that these Wines are useful in all cases for which they are recommended.

The following brands are now offered by us. They comprise all the varieties now grown in the State suitable for sale:

WHITE, or HOCK WINE—Of a light straw colored, very delicate and fine flavored.

CLARET—A superior wine for table use.

ANGELICA—A rich and naturally sweet wine, much admired by ladies, and valuable in the sick chamber, as it makes fine wheys and jellies. It is a fine desert wine, and well adapted for Communion purposes.

MUSCATEL—A light colored, highly aromatic wine. Very similar to the celebrated Tokay.

PORT—Deep red color, fine flavor, and in many respects similar to the old wines of Lisbon.

GRAPE BRANDY—The pure distillation of our wines.

This is one of the most valuable combinations of a useful and an agreeable beverage that has ever been offered to the public. Millions of bottles were sold throughout the North during the last four years, and wherever introduced it has proved a welcome addition to the invalid table, the family circle, and the bachelor's sideboard.

Ladies who have lost strength and appetite, and suffer from nausea, vomiting and vertigo; gentlemen who "don't feel very well" just before breakfast or dinner, whose stomachs are out of order, and whose systems are generally deranged; mothers weaning children and suffering from general debility; children of sickly nature and sour, dyspeptic constitutions; travelers who have occasion to change their water; and all who live in malarious districts and are subject to miasmatic influences, will find it one of the most valuable invigorators that can be taken.

It was used very extensively in 1861, with such general satisfaction that in offering it to the public now we deem it unnecessary to publish any of the many certificates that we have received, testifying in the very strongest terms in its favor. All that we can say is to guarantee that we will pledge ourselves to furnish an article PURE AND UNADULTERATED.

It has been given to little children suffering from weakness and weak lungs with most happy effect. One little girl, in particular, with pains in her head, loss of appetite and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill has been exhausted, has been entirely restored. She began with but a teaspoonful a day. Her appetite and strength rapidly increased and she is now well.

CONSUMPTION.

Our son, JAMES PAINTER, (some three years ago) was afflicted with consumption of the lungs for which he was discharged from the army. He was examined by four army physicians, who all agreed that he must die with the disease. We brought him to Dr. KEYSER, 140 Wood street, (now 120 Penn street,) who, after sounding his lungs commenced to treat him, and cured him sound and well. He is now well and has been so for the past three years. Others afflicted in like manner can likewise be cured.

JAMES PAINTER.
MARY ANN PAINTER.
Temperanceville, Sept 5th, 1866.

PITTSBURGH, December 31, 1866.

A GREAT CURE BY DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP. I live in Peebles township, Allegheny county. I had a cough and spitting, which commenced about the 4th of February last, and continued eighteen months. I employed the best physicians in the country, and my cough continued unabated until early in October. At that time I was advised to try your Pectoral Cough Syrup, which I did, and after I had taken one bottle, I was entirely free from the coughing and spitting. I had despaired of ever getting well, and I think that it should be known that this valuable remedy will do for others what it has done in my case. JOHN C. LITTLE,
Witness—R. M. KEER. Peebles township.

PITTSBURGH, January 11, 1859.

DR. KEYSER:—My wife has been afflicted with a cough and difficulty of breathing for five or six years, which, for several years back, had gradually increased in violence. The complaint has been hereditary, and she had been treated by several physicians without any relief. In this state of her case I procured some of your PECTORAL COUGH SYRUP. I bought the first time a fifty cent bottle, which relieved her very much; I then called and got a dollar bottle, which cured her entirely, and she has now no trace of the former disease, except weakness. I would also state that I used the medicine myself to a cold and cough. The medicine cured me by taking one dose. I express my entire satisfaction with the medicine, and you are at liberty to publish this if you desire to do so.

WM. WILSON,
Alderman, Fifth Ward.

WHOOPING COUGH.

Below will be found a certificate from Doctor M. DUPUY, one of our most respectable dentists, in regard to Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup. The Pectoral Syrup is also an infallible cure for every form of cough and cold to which we are liable.

PITTSBURGH, June 23, 1862.

DR. KEYSER:—Dear Sir: I have for a long time been opposed to advertised or patent medicines, and it is with reluctance that I recommend any of them. The consideration, however, that I am doing the community a service, induces me to overcome my objections, and to publicly recommend your Pectoral Syrup. We have kept it in our family for the last five or six years and have given it for coughs, such as are produced by colds, &c., with the effect of alleviating or entirely arresting them. During last winter our children were exposed to the infection of whooping cough, and each one of our three boys was attacked with what we believed to be that malady. We administered your syrup liberally, and the result was, that the whooping cough lasted with neither of them more than ten or twelve days. I hope others will at least make a trial of your medicines in such cases, as we have found it beneficial. Yours,

A. DUPUY, No. 21 Wylie street.

HERNIA OR RUPTURE.

It will be observed that we have published for some time past an advertisement of Dr. George H. Keyser, of 140 Wood street, Pittsburgh, Pa. in reference to Trusses and other mechanical appliances for the cure and relief of hernia, rupture, besides various broken down conditions of the human body which are usually beyond the reach of medication. Dr. Keyser has given this branch of the business great attention for several years past, and we think we are justified in saying that he comprehends it thoroughly. You can get at his store, Shoulder Braces for weak breasts, Elastic Stockings for varicose veins, Pile Props for the cure of Piles, and, in fact, every variety of mechanical appliance. Dr. Keyser is the inventor of a Truss for the radical cure of Hernia or Rupture, so perfect in its parts and so comfortable to the wearer, as to elicit the admiration of all who may need such an appliance.

He has recently been in communication with some of the ablest and most experienced truss surgeons in the United States, and feels satisfied that all those who have been plagued or annoyed with ill-fitting and uncomfortable trusses, can be accommodated by calling at his consulting rooms, No. 120 Penn street, or at his Medicine and Truss Depot, 140 Wood street. Office hours from eight to eleven A. M., and one to four P. M.

DEAFNESS AND THE EAR.

Many persons have rested content in the belief that skin and ear diseases, however troublesome, will wear out of themselves, for that no remedy will avail in effecting a cure; in this way many persons have suffered through half a dozen years, who might easily have been relieved at the onset in as many weeks. So also with regard to the ear, a prejudice has obtained that the ear is too delicate on organ to be treated, or as is often expressed, TAMPERED WITH; hence hundreds have thus remained deaf for the greater part of a lifetime, who might have been greatly relieved, and in many instances, completely restored to their hearing, had proper assistance been timely applied for, as may readily be seen by a perusal of the following certificate. We also take occasion to remark that the testimonial comes from a source close at hand, in Allegheny city, where, upon inquiry, any one interested can satisfy themselves of its truth:

PITTSBURGH, July 28, 1864.

DEAR SIR:—I take pleasure in adding my testimony to that of others in favor of Dr. Keyser's treatment of deafness. My son had been afflicted for five years with deafness produced from scarlet fever. At times he could not hear at all; and could only understand as we would motion to him. His speech had also become affected. Having tried other remedies without receiving any benefit, I applied to Dr. Keyser, and under his treatment he has entirely recovered, and can now hear as well as ever he did.
